This is a solo challenge attempt. We rely on your morals to finish all food yourself. No outside help, no feeding the stray cat or bringing your Venus fly trap. No item swaps either, cheeky

You can stand, sit, kneel, we don't care but no leaving the table, no toilet breaks

You puke, you pay. A waiting period of 5 minutes after finishing must be observed. Busting for a pee? We don't care!

Timer starts from your first bite, we'll give you up to 10 minutes after the food arrives before you start to get ready, take pictures etc.

Old Bob's timer is the official time. By all means, bring your own timer for your own satisfaction, but we make the rules, and we start our own clock

Challengers are required to, within reason, 'leave no doubt' to complete the challenge, leaving a few sesame seeds is accepted. No chipmunking! The food is free if completed. And you receive a sweet bragging T-shirt

Old Bob's is not responsible or liable for any injury no matter how small or serious, including, but not limited to, you putting on weight

You must be 18 years or over or accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. A valid signature is required

Unlimited water is provided, but you can drink what you like

I understand I am an idiot for attempting this challenge and hereby exclude Old Bob's and their employees from any liability from any situation that may stem from me taking this challenge. I also authorize use of my image and name to be displayed on the wall of fame / shame
